Introduction

Caredig believes that everyone has the right to their chosen lifestyle as long as this does not affect the quality of life of others. Caredig has an important role in preventing, reducing and tackling Hate and Mate Incidents and Crime for residents, communities and Caredig staff. We recognise the effect that Hate and Mate Incidents and Crime have on the quality of life of residents and we are committed to tackling all incidents through a robust, victim centred approach.

It is the policy's intention to ensure that victims are able to live and work in any Caredig property and scheme without fear of harassment, intimidation or attack.

Our Values

In applying this policy/strategy, we will be guided by our values. Our values determine how we behave towards our customers, our colleagues, our partners and our work: -

Kind - We recognise that relationships are at the heart of everything we do, at the heart of good relationships is kindness

Innovative - we continuously strive to be the best we can whilst seeking creative ideas to improve and grow

Trusting - We trust people to do the right thing, because good relationships are built on mutual trust and respect

Accountable - we accept the responsibilities of our role and are accountable for our actions and for doing what is right.

Definitions

- Hate crime is a criminal offence which is perceived, by the victim or any other person, to be motivated by hostility or prejudice based on a person's actual or perceived:
  - Disability
  - Race or ethnicity
  - Religion or belief
  - Sexual orientation
  - Gender identity
- A Hate Incident is a criminal or non-criminal incident which is perceived, by the victim or any other person, to be motivated by hostility or prejudice based on a person's actual or perceived:
  - Disability
  - Race or ethnicity

- Religion or belief
- Sexual orientation
- Gender identity
- Mate Incidents and Crime usually means befriending vulnerable people in order to take advantage of them, exploit or abuse them. It is regarded as a form of disability hate crime or age hate crime but can also resemble cases of domestic abuse or violence. Victims of mate crime are often vulnerable due to learning disabilities, mental health problems or illness, or age (targeting vulnerable older or younger people)
- For the purpose of this policy 'Allocated Officer' can be a Community Housing Officer, Extra Care Manager, Support Worker, Service Coordinator, Team Leader or Operational Manager.
- For the purpose of this policy, 'Tenant' is used to describe the contract holder.

Caredig approach

Caredig will take a zero approach to Hate Incidents, Mate Crime and The Crime and will work with the Police, Victim Support and other appropriate partners to investigate the alleged instances and occurrences. Caredig will take the appropriate action to tackle the perpetrators.

We acknowledge that the hate or prejudice element of an incident may have a different effect on some victims in comparison to general anti-social behaviour. Hate Incidents are always extremely personal in nature and target the very core of people's identity. This may lead to increased vulnerability. Hate Incidents will often have a direct or indirect impact on whole families and communities, which may lead to future community tensions. We will adopt an holistic approach to prevent escalation.

Perception by anyone that a hate incident has occurred is all that is required to report/record an incident whether a crime has been committed or not or whether there is any evidence to identify the hate element or not. All incidents will be recorded if perceived by the victim or any other person to be a hate incident, until further investigations process otherwise. This does not mean that the alleged perpetrator is immediately assumed guilty.

A person does not have to belong to a particular group to be a victim of Hate Crime. For example, You can be a victim of homophobic abuse but can be heterosexual.

Support of Complainants and Witnesses

We want to ensure complainants and witnesses feel believed, heard and supported when they report a hate or mate incident or crime, by offering day to day support right through to helping them attend court in the rare occasions this is necessary. We will therefore always provide a named contact, an 'Allocated Officer' who will maintain regular contact, keeping them fully informed as possible throughout the process.

The level of support given will be tailored to meet the needs of that particular individual and the circumstances of the case. Where appropriate, we will assist complainants to access support and assistance from other agencies such as the following:

- Victim Support Cymru
- National Hate Crime Report and Support Centre for Wales
- Galop who provide support for LGBTQ+ victims
- Mind Cymru
- BAWSO who provide support for those of Black and Ethnic Minority backgrounds
- Scope who provide disability support

Caredig believes that residents play a key part in the successful management of Hate and Mate incidents and crimes as we are reliant on information from people reporting incidents in order to be able to act. Therefore, we expect residents to cooperate with reasonable requests to assist (such as agreeing to taking personal actions, keeping appointments, keeping records of incidents, taking part in mediation, reporting incidents to the Police etc). Residents may also be expected to attend court and provide a witness statement and will be fully supported by Caredig to do this.

Where residents are unwilling to cooperate and therefore effective action is not possible, Caredig may close the case without further investigation.

Prevention of Hate & Mate Incidents or Crime & Partnership Working

Caredig will use policies and initiatives as detailed in our Tenant Insight & Involvement strategy to improve community relationships, promote our commitment to equality, diversity and inclusion and the Caredig belief that differences should be respected and valued and, where possible reduce the likelihood of incidents occurring.
